Thanks for the introduction [REDACTED] and nice to meet you Ashley. I report into the real estate and development legal team but my focus in environment, health and safety as [REDACTED] indicates in her note. I have been at Apple for about 2 1/2 years but I have been practicing in the law firm and corporate setting for quite a while working in lots of different setting and covering all kinds of issues in this area and also product regulatory and corporate social responsibility at other companies. Let's find some time to talk.

Hello Ashley and Debra,

I'm introducing you two to each other by way of this email.

Debra - Ashley is currently an EPM in HW land whilst also going to law school (can't image juggling that myself but she is basically amazing). We had the privilege of having her as our SW legal intern last year and she helped us accomplish a ton of great work with our AI/ML teams as well as other areas, plus we had fun :) She's thinking of going into environmental law and would welcome your insights into the practice area and your experiences. Thank you!

Ashley - Debra is in our top notch Real Estate Legal team where she focuses on EHS matters - chemical safety, worker and workplace safety and other environmental matters related to Apple employees and facilities. [REDACTED]

Will now leave the rest up to you both.

Have a good evening and rest of the week,

- [REDACTED]
